

Search Site

Search Tips

Come Register! It's Free

Privacy Policy
Subscribe to Globe

Breaking News
Tech Home
e-insider
Reviews
@Play

BREAKING NEWS

TECHNOLOGY

POSTED AT 11:00 AM EDT

Monday, May 31, 2004

Tech Home | e-insider | Reviews | @Play | Today's Paper | Investor

Imex launches e-government software

Globe and Mail Update

E-mail this Article

Print this Article

Sign
Tech

Tech
Do yo netw

Vote
Resul

Sign
Te
A

Resources
Encyclopedia
Tech Alert
Tech Books
Tech Events
Troubleshooter
Special Reports

STEPPING UP

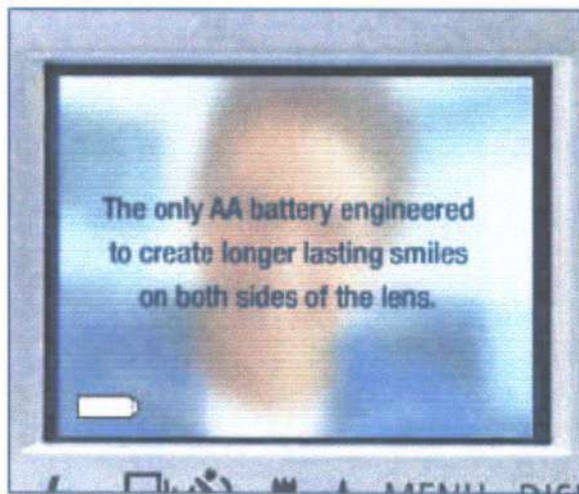

Today's Paper
Technology News
Tech Investor

In The News
Biotechnology
Companies
Gaming
Hardware
Internet
Software
Wireless

CCNMathews
Search Newswire
Go

Recent Releases
Biotechnology

RICHMOND HILL, Ont. May 31 — Imex Systems has launched its community portal software and suite of e-services, iCity, which allows for community collaboration, information, communications and electronic services delivery by municipal governments. The iCity suite is specifically designed for small and medium-sized cities to enable residents to take advantage of electronic service delivery at any time — day or night. With iCity, registered users will have a single sign-on and integrated on-line payment system for all e-services.

The iCity suite of e-services delivery include utility billing and payments, property tax billing and payments, recreation program registration, facility bookings, building permits, pet licenses, on-line sale of garbage tags, municipal publications and other merchandise.

Additional modular components of the iCity product suite include the iCity Portal, city information, city hall information, information for residents, information for businesses, information for visitors, local business directory and a FAQ.

The iCity's modular structure allows for purchasing of the whole suite or only the applications desired. Imex Systems offers customers a choice of payment options including one-time licensing, subscription or ASP-model.

E-mail this Article

Print this Article

Advertisement

Not sure whether to go long or short on your mortgage? Why choose? The Long and Short™ mortgage only from Scotiabank.

Site Search

